

CONNECT FOUR ROOTS

Terra: Earth, also land, ground, soil, country.	Aqua: Water, also rain, sea, lake, river.	Pes/Pedis Foot.
Sensus: Feeling.	Flos/Floris: Blossom, flower.	Pars/Partis: Piece, portion, not the complete part.
Luna: Moon, month, night.	Lumen/Luminis: Light, daylight, torch, life, eye.	Mille: Thousand, ten hundreds, a Roman mile.
Insula: Island, separate block of flats.	Memoria: Memory, recollection.	Meto: To measure, to cut off.
Vegetus: Lively, animated, vigorous, active.	Astrum: Star, constellation.	Nuncio: To bring a message, to tell somebody something.
Dexter: On the right side, right, skilful, ready. Sinister: Left, on the left, awkward, wrong, lucky, favourable.	Anima: Air, breeze, breathe, soul, life.	Duco/Duce/Ductum: To lead, to bring, to guide, to persuade, to marry, to deceive, to prolong.

CONNECT FOUR DERIVATIVES

An insulated screwdriver is safest when working with electrical appliances.	Birds sing to tell other birds that this is their territory and they must stay out.	He spoke Latvian, but his pronunciation was not always correct.
How on earth do you pronounce Cholmondley?	The floral clock by the beach is red and blue this year.	Many sensible people thought that building the millennium dome was an act of lunacy.
The part of the rocket that landed on the moon was called a lunar module.	Because she had nothing to do she began to vegetate in front of daytime television.	Although he was alone in the room, he felt the sensation of another presence.
A millipede does not have as many legs as its name implies.	The Romans usually provided an aqueduct that brought water to the city bathhouse.	The old man often remembered events from his exciting past.
Aqueous cream keeps the baby's skin moist.	She had a good memory and never forgot her homework.	The swinging bulb sent streaks of odd luminescence across its uneven surface.
The astrologer always told her clients that the stars would bring good luck.	A narrow strip of land separated the peninsula from the mainland.	Try not to impede the free flow of water by standing on the plughole.

CONNECT FOUR DERIVATIVES

The driver was pleased to announce that the train was actually early.	Terracotta pots break easily, but they are cheap and conduct heat beautifully.	The builder constructed a partition to make two small rooms out of one big one.
Although she was only a metre tall, she was their best pole-vaulter.	Because she spent too long on the running machine, she had a florid complexion.	The vote to close the school was unanimous.
The millennium dome was a big waste of public money.	The boy was so sensible he was always sent on interesting errands.	A combination of heavy rain and hot sun produces lush vegetation.
The people who draw the pictures for the Simpsons are called animators.	Horses, sheep and most tables and chairs are quadrupeds.	The still air between the two panes of double-glazing provides insulation from noise and cold.
The conductor's baton broke because he waved it too furiously in 'The Flight of the Bumblebee'.	The millennium bridge wobbled a lot because it had a faulty suspension system.	The astronauts found it difficult to go to the toilet in zero gravity.
Although it was dark, he could tell the time by the luminous hands on his watch.	The sensitive plant curls up when touched.	The figure waiting behind the pillar seemed sinister so they walked the other way.

CONNECT FOUR DERIVATIVES

Pedestrians are considered an unimportant part of the transport system.	The biscuit crumbled into small particles and nobody wanted to eat them.	People used to believe that the Mediterranean Sea was in the middle of the world.
The stadium was only partially completed because the football club lost a lot of games and ran out of money.	People used to believe that lunatics were affected by the moon.	The florist produced some very inexpensive arrangements for Mothers' Day.
There are a thousand millimetres in a metre.	A millipede does not have as many legs as its name implies.	The captain's dexterity with the ball meant that they always won the match.
The Japanese origami demonstrator was very dextrous.	The teacher did not change the water in the aquarium and the fish died.	A thorough pedicure solved the problem of her ingrown toenail.
Her face was so animated that it was always easy to tell what she was thinking.	People once believed that disasters were caused by the stars being in the wrong place.	Cast iron is used for casseroles and frying pans because it is a good conductor of heat.
The jewellery maker used ductile materials like silver to make plaited necklaces.	Napoleon introduced the metric system into France 200 years ago.	They all went to Blackpool to look at the illuminations.

The head teacher sent a memorandum to remind the staff to collect sponsor money.

Vegetables contain a lot of vitamins and these protect you from illnesses.